Reflections

Pastor Caleb Hughes

“God is Good, God is Great”

The reality once again struck me recently. It isn't comforting that God is great, if He isn't also good.

There have been many world leaders come and go that could prove their greatness and power. They could control a room, command an army, and lead others to follow their leadership blindly, even on the way to acts of horrific violence against humanity. Greatness is scary, if it is in the wrong hands.

As great as humans have been, none of them are as great as our God. God's power knows no limits. While the greatest of world powers eventually fall, the supreme power of God predates and postdates them all. He is eternal in His rule and reign. But here's the thing: God's greatness is not a good thing if He himself isn't also good.

God isn't just all-powerful; He is all loving. He isn't just all-conquering; He is all-nurturing. He isn't just all-ruling; He is all-comforting. Why does this matter? Because we do not just serve a God who rules over us and our circumstances; we serve a God who loves us and works all things for our good in our circumstances.

Life can be painful. Hurt is real. Suffering is present. God is supreme. God is powerful. All submit to Him, whether individuals, governments, and entities. But God's power isn't the only thing that is supreme; His love for His own is too.

God isn't just great; He is good. Rest in that today.
