God's Calling, God's Equipping

Every once in a while, you read something in God's Word that you've read a number of times, but He chooses to cause something to jump out that perhaps never has before. Recently I was reading Matthew's gospel. In Matthew 14, John the Baptist is beheaded by an evil man and woman. The aftermath is stunning.

After Jesus' disciples buried John's body, they gave the heartbreaking news to Jesus: his cousin had been viciously murdered. How would you respond to such news? Jesus was the God-man, but he was a man. The loss of his dear friend shook him to the core. 14:13 tells us that he withdrew to a desolate place by himself. Isn't that relatable? He needed some time to reflect, process, and pray. What happened next is what I want to share with you.

The crowds followed him. Jesus did not get the alone time he sought. The ministry God put in front of him did not sleep. As I read that, I tried to put myself in Jesus' shoes. Would I be willing to "pour out" when I had been brought so low? Despite being gut wrenched, he saw that the need did not stop so he could stop. He would get his rest afterwards (in solitude on a mountain in prayer—Matt. 14:22-23), but before that, it says that he "had compassion on them" and healed their sick. The disciples then told him to send them home! Instead, he fed 5,000+ with a few loaves and fish!

My point is to say that God equips within you that which he requires of you. Unfortunately, there are times that the hits keep coming, even when you're down. In those times, I've learned to pray what Paul told Corinth.

2 Corinthians 12:8-9 — 8 Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this, that it should leave me. 9 But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

Will you join me in praying that God would be enough, give enough, and sustain you enough that you may minister to others even when you've been brought low?
